Paid out of the churche box at Walton Kyngham 0 3 6 i These and sundry other entries seem to show that the game as practised here differed somewhat from that of other towns where three kings were customary under the name of the Three Kings of Cologne and where no queen was introduced. There is however no certain account of the nature of this game. The clear profits in the 15th year of Henry VIII, when the drama was last acted here, were 9 10s. 6d. Robin Hood and May Game. Entries as late as the 29th year of Henry VIII show that the Sports of May were here celebrated with considerable spirit. The Churchwardens were continually called upon for the supply...
