The mere accomplishment of writing a good style, is the result only of many tedious years of study and self-denial. The beauty of the written character, the finished graces of their composition, the The word embroidery is derived from the French broderie which some deduce by transposition from bordeur, because they formerly only embroidered the borders of their stuns, whence the Latins sometimes called embroiderers limiularii. According to Du Cange, they anciently wrote aurobruslus, for embroidered with gold, or brustus brodatus, whence the French word broderie. t The fine muslins made at Manilla, with threads spun from the pine-apple plant, and afterwards so richly and delicately embroidered with the same material, are well known. excellence of their silk manufactures and embroidery, the wonders of their porcelain, and many other marvels in art and knowledge, are the natural results of untiring industry and perseverance. A Chinese uses no short cuts, resorts to no compendious methods for abridging labour: --he is not without ingenious resources to accomplish an end, but his aim does not seem to be to save time. We are indebted to Mr. Tradescant Lay for the following interesting account of the art of embroidery as at present practised by the Chinese. For twenty-two cash or tseen, he says, I purchased an elegant book, filled with choice subjects of the graphic...
